IMAGINING THE FUTURE

THE GARDENS AT ELM BANK
BICENTENARY MASTER PLAN

Mass Hort must continue evolving to promote horticulture in a way that meets the needs of the next generation. We will plant the seeds of our future by defining key growth priorities for The Gardens at Elm Bank through the development of a Master Plan. With this initiative, we are embarking on a roadmap for the future and a vision we can all rally around as an organization and as a community.

By defining pivotal areas of focus, initiating new programs, and redefining ourselves—we will deliver our mission of engaging the public in the enjoyment, education, and appreciation of plants, gardens, and the natural world.

Families and grandparents walk along the canal boardwalk to the Charles River to connect with nature.

Visitors enjoy tea and croissants in the Manor Café adjacent to the restored sunken garden.

Gardens delight and refresh visitors by connecting them to landscape design and historic gardens. We hope to restore the historic Olmsted Asian garden.

IMAGINING THE FUTURE

THE GARDENS AT ELM BANK BICENTENARY MASTER PLAN

Join us as we imagine the future. Here are some potential recommendations that we might uncover and choose to prioritize in the planning process...

Flower shows and exhibits engage people in their passion for plants and design.

Families enjoy an afternoon or evening at the outdoor theater, which showcases cultural events such as music, theater, and lectures.

A new entrance and easily accessible parking improves visitors' entry into the gardens.
